DOUGLAS COUNTY SCHOOL DISTRICT VOTERS - MARCH 2023

16. More/less likely to vote for new school district funding: Nearly 90% of students in Douglas County schools graduate - over 6 points higher than the statewide average & on par with neighboring districts Littleton & Cherry Creek. Yet, DCSD collects $2,000 less per student in mill levy override dollars each year than both of those school districts. As a result, on average, teachers in Douglas County make anywhere from $15 to $19 thousand less than those teachers...

DOUGLAS COUNTY SCHOOL DISTRICT VOTERS - MARCH 2023

17. More/less likely to vote for new school district funding: Passing a mill levy override & bond measure is an investment in top teaching talent & our school buildings. This requires buy-in & support from taxpayers & amounts to an extra $1 per week for every $100,000 of home value. That comes out to $250 per year for someone with a $500,000 home

DOUGLAS COUNTY SCHOOL DISTRICT VOTERS - MARCH 2023

24. The legislature sets total funding for each school district across Colorado..The state sets the size of the bucket & the bucket is first filled with local funding..the state backfills the rest..if the local share is higher, the state share is less. Voters in growing communities can approve additional funding, but only through mill levy overrides &/or bonds. Knowing this, are you more or less likely to support the two public school funding measures being considered in Douglas County?

DOUGLAS COUNTY SCHOOL DISTRICT VOTERS - MARCH 2023

24. The legislature sets total funding for each school district across Colorado..The state sets the size of the bucket & the bucket is first filled with local funding..the state backfills the rest..if the local share is higher, the state share is less. Voters in growing communities can approve additional funding, but only through mill levy overrides &/or bonds. Knowing this, are you more or less likely to support the two public school funding measures being considered in Douglas County?

DOUGLAS COUNTY SCHOOL DISTRICT VOTERS - MARCH 2023

25. Douglas County School District's current mill levy override is $1,000 to $2,000 per student less than our neighboring districts. DCSD has 63,000 students, which creates a $63 to $126 million gap between DCSD & neighboring districts & is the reason DCSD cannot pay competitively. Knowing this, are you more or less likely to support the two public school funding measures being considered in Douglas County?
